You will need this guidance and the submission form. Read this guidance and the submission form before you do anything.

Any questions or queries, email us at info@worldclass-schools.org www.worldclass-schools.org

A. WCSQM Assessment Framework

- Read each number carefully and check you understand it. If you don't, ask someone, or work it out using a dictionary, online or otherwise.
- Fill in the last column with

- ✓ if you are OK at this
- ✓✓ if this is something you are really good at
- ✓✓✓ if this is your real strength, talent, gift etc.

Our famous World Class Bear could be yours

X if this is something you don't like, or don't think you are very good at

? something you would like to work on and be better at.

You can have a combination of x, ✓ and ?

- Complete rows 31 – 35 with five things you are #worldclass at, that are not on this list. They can be anything that makes you stand out from the crowd.

B. Choose at least five skills and competencies. They must be made up of

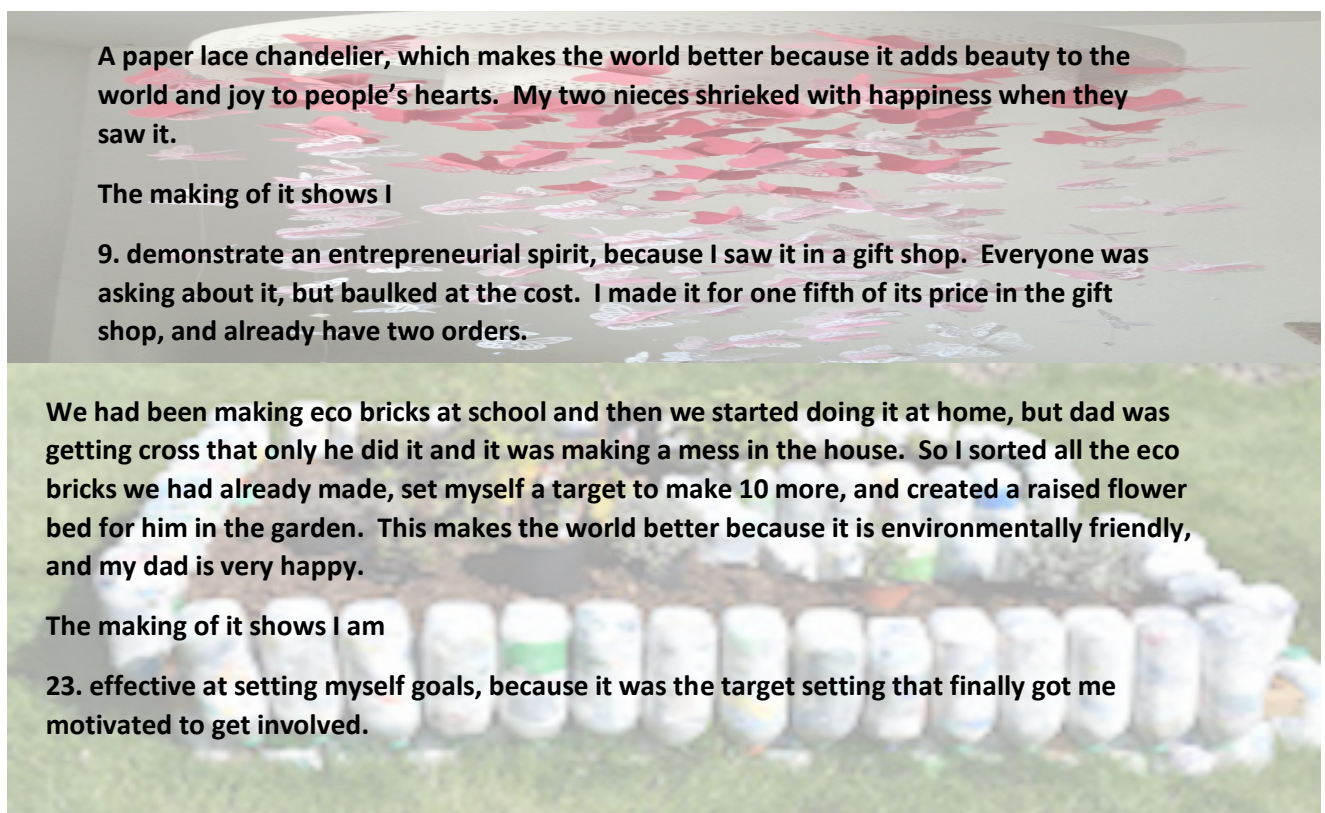

- two skills and competencies from 1. – 30. that you are best at

- two skills and competences from 1. – 30. that you want to be better at (if you haven't got two, go back and get two)
- one skill and competence from 31. – 35. that you have added

C. Decide on a project that would clearly demonstrate at least all of these five competencies. The project

- can be in any format, and of any material hard copy, electronic, visual, audio, video, woven, knitted, written by hand, carved, made of soap etc.
- must make the world better in some way because of its existence (because that is what a #worldclass project should do)
- must clearly show that, to complete it, you have made a #worldclass effort with your five chosen skills and competencies.

Here are some of examples of projects

I made a postcard and put it into the doors of everyone on our road, saying that if they needed shopping done, then me and my team would do it for them. In response to feedback, I drew up a project plan, which included job allocations, shopping lists, recipients and daily changes. I ran this project for 3 weeks. This makes the world better because I honestly think I kept my street in better health than if I had not done this project.

The completion of this project shows I am

19. exceptionally good at planning because the plan held the whole project together.
